AND THE POLICE SAY HB HAS set E. Spear Captured After a Hot Chase with a Baby and a Puguacious tine Without Any-Denies He Is the Man Wanted.

Herbert E. Spear, who is known also as Larsen, Anderson, and Isaac Spero, and was employed as a conductor on the North Beach line of the Brooklyn Heights Rallroad Company, was locked up in the Bedford avenue police station, Williamsburg, last evening. He is 30 years old. Karly in last March Spear deserted his wife Ida, and their two children, 3 and 1 year old, while they lived in South Brooklyn. After an unsuccessful search for her husband, Mrs. Spear returned to the home of her parents, at 267 Twentieth street. The Charities Commissioners granted an order for a warrant on the charge of abandonment against Spear, and for several weeks Policeman Short made a fruitless search for the man. A week ago Mrs. Spear learned that her nusband was a conductor, and she found out the line on which he was employed. She learned also that he lived at 108 Havemeyer street, Williamsburg. With her father and mother and her three-year-old boy, Mrs. Spear went to the Bedford avenue police station yes terday afternoon to tell her husband's whereabout. While Mrs. Spear with her child and her mother remained in the station, Mrs. Spear's father and the policeman went out to arrest the fugitive.

Short did not know Spear, and it was arranged that Mrs. Spear's father, if he saw Spear leave the Havemeyer street house, should give a signal so that Short would arrest the man. Mrs. Spear's father watched for Spear from a saloon near the house, and the policeman was in a sa-loon on the opposite side of the street. After nearly an hour Spear was seen leaving his house and running to catch a car of the Grand street line. Mrs. Spear's father gave the signal and Short started in pursuit. Spear saw the policeman and suspected something wrong. He urged the motorman to increase the speed of the car. Short caught the car, however. When he got aboard Spear jumped from one seat to another in an effort to get away. The car was stopped and Spear jumped off. So did Short, and after a chase of another block Spear was captured. He was taken to the station house, where he denied ever having seen his wife or her parents.

"Agreat mistake has evidently been made

"A great mistake has evicently been made here, "Spear said coolly.

Mrs. Spear became hysterical and begged her husband to speak to her.

"I don't know you, madam," Spear replied.
"Your husband must be somebody else. Don't claim me as your husband, because I am not the

Mrs. Spear was on the point of fainting when her mother seized her. The young woman's father became excited and tried to strike his son in-law. He was restrained by a policeman, and then Mrs. Spear's father picked up his grandchild, which is an exact image of the congrandchild, which is an exact image of the con-ductor, and shouted: "Do you mean to say that this isn't your child?"

child I' Spear did not reply, and his father-in-law asked him again. The prisoner repeated that a great mistake was made in arresting him. Mrs. Spear declared that her husband was a scoundrel to repudiate her. While Sergeant Bunce was trying to restore order another woman entered the police station.

"My God, darling, what is the matter!" she said to Spear.

said to Spear.

"Nothing at all, Louise; only a little mistake, that's all." Spear replied.

"No mistake at all," said Mrs. Spear. "This man is my husband, and after deserting me and my children he has the audacity to repudiate me as his wife, and even to deny that that little box over there is his son." boy over there is his son."
"You say that this man is your husband?" inquired the woman who had appeared a few minutes before.

quired the woman who had appeared a few minntes before.

"That is true," replied Mrs. Spear.

"He is my husband, too," exclaimed the other woman. "We were married last August after a brief courtship. He told me he was single and had never been married before."

Then the woman asked Spear what he meant.
She made a move as if to attack the prisoner and he edged toward a policeman. She screamed and then staggered forward and would have fallen but for Policeman Short. Mrs. Spear also became excited and was led into a room, where a plass of water revived her. Spear was then locked up. He will be arraigned in the Lee Avenue Police Court to-day. The police say that Spear has two more wives.

SHE IS WIDOW AND SOLE LEGATEE. Lillian Burroughs Ahead, So Far, of Her Late Husband's Relatives.

Lillian Ames Burroughs has been appointed administratrix, with the will annexed, of her husband, Horace Franklin Burroughs, Jr., after a protracted fight before the Surrogate made by relatives of her husband. Burroughs died last May. His will left all his property to his wife and made no provision for his father, mother, or sisters. The will was contested by his relatives, who, among other things, denied that the sole beneficiary had married Burroughs, The will on Sept. 4, 1893.

her father-in-law, Horace F. Burroughs, with whom Franklin had been in the lumber business at 21 Beaver street. The widow declared that the action of her father in-law was the result of spite, and that he had not accounted to her husband for a large amount of money received in insurance. While she and her husband were abroad there was a fire in the lumber yard, and she says that her tather-in-law compromised with the insurance companies for $95,000, and that her husband could not get the affair straightened out with his father, whom he had been threatening to sue up to the time of his death. At one time her husband bad threatened to have his father arrested, she states, and had ordered him out of the house. She says her husband told her shortly before his death that he was worth $30,000. She further states that her was worth law owes her husband's estate many thousands of dollars, and that she intends to proceed to collect the money if she should be put in control of the estate.

Concerning the dispute as to ber marriage, she says she was born in Louisville, Ky, in 1869 and met Burroughs in Minneapolis in 1884. They were married on Oct. 14, 1885, at Chicago. They came to this city to live soon after, and at the time of his death were living at 253 West. They were married on Oct. 14, 1885, at Chicago. She used to call his parents "mother" and "father." She declares that after her marriage she inherited $20,000, which she gave her husband to put into his business.

Mr. Burroughs, the elder, says that he assisted his son in business, and that at the time of his death the son owed him $10,000. the action of her father-in-law was the result of

BILL OF $325 TO PAY FOR CLOTHES. F. W. Hunter's Answer to His Tailor's Suit Stricken Out as Sham.

The answer of Frederick W. Hunter to an action brought against him by Tailor Henry Pouchez to recover $325 was stricken out yes terday as sham by Justice O'Dwyer of the City Court. Hunter comes from Nashville, where in 1892 he was President of the Overland Railroad of Tennessee and President and general manager of the Nashville Traction Company. He is ager of the Nashville Traction Company. He is now in business in this city and is Treasurer of the American Car Improvement Company, and lives at Cranford, N. J.

Hunter set up in his answer that Pouchez, who is in business in this city at 257 Fifth avenue, came to him in Nashville and said he wanted to get the trade of the clubmen of that city, and that if Hunter would give him an order he could have five years to pay for his clothes. Hunter also set up that he is a member of the Country Ciub of Cranford, of which Lawyer W. Benton Crisp, attorney for the plaintiff, is a member, and that he believes the suit was in stituted because of enmity of Crisp toward him. Hunter says the five years' option has not expired.

BATONNE POLKS CANNOT SLEEP. They Complain That Freeholder Munn's Merry-

Go-Round Organ Is Crazing Them. Lawyer Alian Benny, acting for S. L. and C. O. Mackey and other residents of Bayonne, made an application to Vice-Chancellor Emory in Jersey City yesterday for an order to restrain ex-Charles T. Munn from operating a loud-toned organ which works in connection with a merry-go-round at his hotel at First street and Avenue C, Bayonne. The petitioners allege that they have been driven almost insane by the noise of the organ, which grinds out alleged music continuously from 10 A. M. until 11 P. M.

200 POLICY HOLDERS DESERT. Befase to Pay the New Assessment Po by the Massachusette Renefit Life.

Another meeting of the dissatisfied policy holders of the Massachusetta Benefit Life Insurance Company was held in the law school room in the Equitable building yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Heywood of Eliza beth was Chairman and A. Edward Woodruff Secretary.

John H. Roelker, President of the company, said that if the company could raise $525,000 by assessments, or even 75 per cent. of this amount, it could continue business with great success. At this statement one of the depositors said he had been contributing assessments for an emergency fund, which he understood had reached $800,000 three years ago, and he did not propose to be "swindled" out of any more. Lionel Sutro, one of the committee of policy holders, took the policy holder to task for his remark, and said that the integrity of President Rocker had never been questioned. Another policy holder wanted to know whether in the event of his paying his assessment and all others failing to do so, if his money would be returned. President Roeiker said h could not make any such arrangement under the Massachusetts statutes and the constitution of the company, but if the assessments were sent to him personally he would hold them until 75 per cent, had been paid to him, and if it was not he would refund the money. Louis Windmüller, who is Chairman of the Finance Committee of the company, said he had Finance Committee of the company, said he had investigated the assets and found $825,000 in good shape. Two hundred and five thousand deliars of this was the equity in the company's building in Boston. The officers received no salaries, and the expenses of the working force had been cut down one-half. He was convinced that if the assessment called for was paid in it would be a good thing for all concerned. He said he was not a policy holder, having been rejected three years ago.

Lionel Sutro said afterward that President Roelker's brother was Mr. Windmuller's partner.

Lionel Sutro said afterward that President Rocker's brother was Mr. Windmuller's partner.

President Rocker's statement of the company's finances showed the liabilities to be $980.000 for death claims, $150.000 of which was contested, and the assets $702.000, $205.000 being the equity in the Boston building, $108.000 deposited in Canada, $100.000 in real estate mortgages and the remainder invested in Masachusetts reil estate. Of the emergency fund there was $600.000 for natural claims and $117.000 for assessments.

President Rocker was requested to withdraw, and the 200 policy holders held a private session. Mr. Woodruff said afterward that they had arranged to get out of the Massachusetts Benefit Life and go into a good live insurance company and to institute proceedings to recover what they alleged was due them from the emergency fund. An assessment of $1 a thousand was made to over the expenses of organizing the policy holders. The committee appointed by the policy holders is composed of the Rev. Dr. T. Heywood, E. Ackerman, Lionel Sutro, S. Levyn, and W. S. Goodnow.

The propeller Aurora, which sailed from the foot of West Twelfth street yesterday morning with about 100 excursionists for College Point, blew out one of her cylinder heads when she was opposite Delavan's ice dock, off Oak Point. was opposite Delavan's ice dock, off Oak Point. The engineer shut off steam before the passengers knew that an accident had happened, and there was little excitement even when they learned about it. The Aurora whistled for help, and a passing tug towed her into Delavan's dock. Her passengers were transferred to the side-wheeler Falcon and taken to College Point. Later the Aurora was towed there. She made repairs and came back to the city under her own steam with the excursionists.

	794	The adjournment of Congress after enacting the tariff bill was followed by an active but irregular market. If precedent were an infallible

n Sugar Refining, makes it comparatively easy to mark down the price of the stock.

The theory that the reactionary element acted upon this morning was that the market has een discounting the enactment of the tariff and the adjournment of Congress and that therefore the rise in prices should culminate with those events. The more substantial interests in Wall street do not hold this view. They consider that the market has lacked public support because of uncertainty regarding the tariff and the adjournment of Congress and that the events of Saturday removed an obstacle to the revival of business, both in Wall street and throughout the country. Evidence of the correctness of this view was furnished by the bond market, which was unusually active and was strong through out. Many issues sold at the highest prices yet recorded for them, and the dealings were heavi est in bonds that have only recently begun to receive attention-an indication that investors are being attracted to them owing to the pro hibitive prices reached by better known and the prospects of the American Refining Company under the schedule that became law last Saturday. This element of uncertainty, together with the recent extraordinary advance

At the close the reaction was propounced in only a few stocks, namely, Sugar Refining, C., B. and Quincy, St. Paul, and Louisville and Nashville. The noteworthy net advances were in American Tobacco, Reading first pre-ferred, Manhattan Railway, and Missouri Pacific. Reading securities were more actime past. The other anthracite shares were comparatively nedected, except Delaware and Hudson, which was exceptionally strong. The withdrawal of $500,080 gold from the Sub-Treasury for expert to morrow and advances in the prices of both raw and refined sugars were the only noteworthy local occurrences.
